Question text: [CONTROL] Imagine a hypothetical organization dedicated to promoting and defending human rights. I'm going to give you $50 pesos. You can either donate some or all of the money to the organization or keep it for yourself and your family. I'm going to give you a jar and walk away for a few minutes. Thinking about how important the organization's work is, but understanding you may be unable to donate because of your family's needs, I'd like you to donate however much you can or want to including nothing at all and keep the rest. We will donate this money to a real organization.
